New Phases of the Contest.

Our CLEVELAND brothers show a ready adaptation to political methods in so easily shifting their position on "the uninstructed dodge," as they were pleased to call it, when a few weeks ago they sought to have every county delegation instructed for Mr. CLEVELAND, and when they declared with much emphasis and frequent iteration that "an uninstructed man is always a HILL man."

Their change of front-their somersault, indeed-was due to the fact that the coun try people frowned upon their advice and termined that the country representatives should be unpledged. Nearly all of the counties have now chosen delegates to the State convention, which is to meet here on May 19th, and there are only about a dozen delegations instructed for CLEVELAND. It is true that many of the uninstructed delegates are for him, but the failure of his friends' plan is shown by the fact that whereas they expected to instruct generally they have been only able to instruct in a few places.

At this writing there seems to be no doubt at all but that the Democrats who do not think that CLEVELAND is the most available man, or the only available man, will organize and control the State convention by virtue of the majority of delegates that they have elected to it. In defiance of their dogma that "an unin structed man is always a Hill man" we confidently expect to see the CLEVELANI men forced to yield-if they have not already yielded-to the overwhelming pressure of public sentiment in favor of an uninstructed delegation to Chicago More than this, the Staunton Vindicator, which is the leading CLEVEthe impolicy of Virginia sending to Chicago a delegation which would vote to admit the New York Bolters. We observe, also, that the Lynchburg Virginian denies that there is a determination on the part of the CLEVELAND people to beat DANIEL and BARBOUR if they should offer as candidates for delegates at large; but the Virginian is more liberal than many of its CLEVELAND contemporaries. We may be permitted to doubt if the CLEVELAND men had the power they would be sitate to "down" DANIEL and BARBOUS. And in this connection we see that they have gently intimated to Mr. Barroun that he is apt to have formidable opposition at the Altogether our dear friends and brothers must admit that they have drifted away off from their original moorings. They will now be glad enough to comprom on an uninstructed delegation and gladder still to have one half of its members in favor of CLEVELAND.

Give the Farmers One.

A correspondent writing to the New York Commercial-Advertiser from Richmond says it is probable that Major Mann Page will go to the National Democratic Convention from Virginia as one of the delegates at large. This will be the concession made by the Democrats to the large farmer element of the party, which Mr. Page By all means the convention should give one of these four places to an Alliance man. We advocate the claims of no particular person. The Alliance men who are delegates to the State convention can in-dicate their preference, and we doubt not it will prove acceptable to the majority of the convention.

At Chicago we should bury all of our squabbles and bickerings and resolve that the man there nominated shall win. A victory in Virginia will be certain if we have the farmers with us, and to give them and their most powerful organization a distinct recognition on the ticket of dele-gates at large will be a step in the right direction. It will, in fact, be an act combining justice and good policy.

A New Disqualification.

The Staunton Vindicator manfully and rightfully stands up for the unchallenged admission of the seventy-two HILL delegates from New York State into the Democratic National Convention. It is a paper which is seldom wrong. Nevertheless, it is hable to err. It can hardly be expected to and bought them cheap, and you are taking advantage of one of the chances to our Staunton contemporary that when it questions the right of any Virginia congressman to favor the nomination of Hill or Cheveland or anybody else, or to advocate the policy of instructing or that of re- opportunity. fusing to instruct the Virginia delegates to the Chicago convention, it questions a right which belongs as well to the congressman, whether he is a Senator or Representative, as to the humblest letter-earrier in the Commonwealth. To serve the people in official positions is not to disqualify any man for expressing an opin-ion in favor of the nomination of either CLEVELAND OF HILL.

Personal as to Delegates.

Of the two tickets offered for the choice of our voters here there is one which is altogether uncommitted on the question of who shall represent this city at Chicago. Whether the man shall be HENBY R. Pot-LARD, JOHN A. CURTIS, A. S. BUFORD, or W. S. Gunn, or shall be taken from the ranks of the great body of citizens who have had no part in this preliminary contest-men such AS JOHN B. PURCELL, JAMES ALFRED JONES, WILLIAM H. PALMER, and HENRY G. CAN-NON-the gentlemen composing it have never decided; nor have we ever heard that any club has presented any name for their support.

We understand that the candidates on this ticket are wholly unfettered as to who shall be sent by them to Chicago.

The people of Virginia have no political idel, and it will be found to the advantage of northern leaders to paste this statement in their hats.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Right. Our people want an available man-one who can win, and therefore one who can carry New York, and who will be likewise strong in Connecticut, New Jersey, and Indiana, and who will be acceptable to the farmers of the South. They ask for a leader to lead them to

It is a question which Virginians will find not difficult for them to decide whether we should not put our trust in JOHN W. DANIEL and JOHN S. BARBOUR rather than in Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts. And it is to be remembered that northe DANIEL nor BARBOUR ever was a Repub can or ever was a bolter from a Demo-cratic caucus, while Williams has been George Wise Was Right. It sticks in the people's throats that a Richmond audience should have applauded a Massachusetts Mugwump-a bolter, too, from a Democratic caucus—when he speered at JOHN W. DANIEL and JOHN S.

No Virginia congressman could have been gotten to do any such work; hence Massachusetts came forward—to furnish a

No wonder that Mr. Wise was not forthcoming when called for at the close of WIL-TAMS's speech. If he had spoken at all we doubt not that he would have expressed his dissent from Mr. WILLIAMS'S unmannerly and unmerited observations concerning DANIEL and BARBOUR.

The Majority in the Convention. Do you think that our CLEVELAND bro-thers here would make the gigantic efforts that they are making to carry Rich moud to-morrow if they thought that they could otherwise count on a majority in the State convention?

So far from being in the majority we be-lieve that they will be in a woful mi-nority in that convention. With a clear majority there they would instruct for CLEVELAND. Wouldn't they? Most certainly. Then, why have they abandoned their dogma that "an uninstructed man is always a HILL man?" Figure that out for yourself, dear reader.

Yes, we say give the Farmers' Alliance one of the four delegates who are to repre-sent Virginia at large at the Chicago con-

The Alliance men who will be delegates to our State convention-good, sound Democrats-can and will help us to make

We do not know whether the unpledged delegates to be voted for to-morrow prefer as city delegate to Chicago Buford, Gunn, POLLARD, or CURTIS, but we feel sure that they will select an excellent man and will tell him to go to Chicago to vote for the most available candidate for President.

The CHEVELAND men will not have their way in our State convention, for the sim ple reason that the majority will be against Virginia and Georgia.

[Norfolk Virginian.]
Authentic reports from the State of Georgia show the State to be for Hill against Cleveland by at least two to one. Virginia will be as two thirds to one third.
